Featured Project

Example Project

A dynamic web-based project utilizing HTML, CSS, JavaScript and so on to streamline blood bank operations. The system includes features such as donor registration and management, automated inventory tracking with expiry alerts, and hospital request handling. With role-based authentication, automated notifications, and insightful analytics, this project ensures efficiency and reliability in managing blood donations and inventory